

Interjection and Kinds

Kinds of interjection words and phrases

- Interjections for greeting....
- Interjections for joy....
- Interjections for approval and praise...
- Interjections for surprise
- Interjections for grief/pain
- Interjections for bidding farewell
- Interjections for expressing doubt or hesitation.

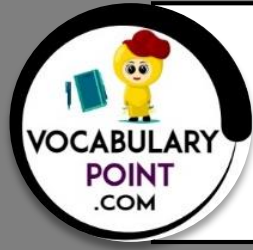

Interjection and Kinds

Interjections for Greeting

Interjections of greeting are used to greet a person or explain the sense of concern for her. For example hello! Hi! Ahoy! Goodbye! Etc.

- 1) Hi! How is your health now?
- 2) Hello! How are you, peter?
- 3) Hi! How's your business going on?
- 4) Hey! Don't be so hopeless.
- 5) Hello! Is there anyone here?

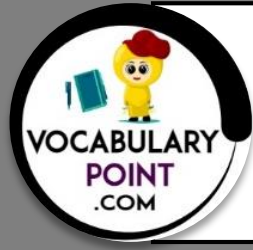

Interjection and Kinds

Interjections for joy

Interjections of joy are used to express the happiness or joy on an incident , news, or pleasant surprise.

For example ha-ha, hurray, yahoo, wow, etc

- 1) Hurray! My poem is published in the magazine.
- 2) Wow! The program is wonderful.
- 3) Wow! Her house s well decorated.
- 4) Yippee! We are going to park.
- 5) Hurray! I have won the prize.

Interjection and Kinds

Interjections for approval and praise

These interjections are used by the speaker when he expresses a strong sense of approval and agreement on something that happened.

These include : bravo! , brilliant! Etc.

- 1) Bravo! John has taken a wicket.
- 2) Well done! You have done a good job.
- 3) Bravo! Richard has scored a goal.
- 4) Brilliant! Your article is so helpful.