

Phrasal verbs

Far and near:

People came to see the match from far and near.

Far and wide:

to distant places

This news has spread far and wide.

First and foremost:

above all

First and foremost, you should take care of your health.

For good:

for ever

He is leaving this place for good.

In the long run:

at least

Ali is sure to surpasses all in the long run.

Now and then:

off and on

He calls at my house every now and then.

Phrasal verbs

Off hand:

without any preparation

I cannot reply to your letter off hand.

On the whole

On the whole, he is a good boy.

Once for all:

for good

I have told him once for all that I cannot help him.

Out of bounds:

Outside the boundaries of the playing

The ball went out of bounds, but the referee did not notice.

To and fro :

from side to side

The flowers were swinging to and fro in the cold wind.

Out and out:

completely, every inch

Khalid is out and out a liar.