

Use of Pronoun

Incorrect

Correct

He hid himself behind the bushes.

He hid behind the bushes.

This is the bird who sings.

This is the bird which sings.

He is the boy which came late.

He is the boy who came late.

This is the same pen which I bought.

This is the same pen that I bought.

Little children love each other.

Little children love one another.

Return each their note-book.

Return each his note-book.

All of we went abroad.

All of us went abroad.

Such boys who are lazy, come late.

Such boys as are lazy come late.

One should do his duty honestly.

One should do one's duty honestly.

He, I and you will help the needy.

You, he and I will help the needy.

Use of Pronoun

Incorrect

It is I who is to blame.

She is as wise as him.

He brought the things to the market which he wanted to sell.

I invite you and him to tea.

He appears older than her

Everybody held their breath

Neither of them wore their cap.

It was them who came in time.

He kept himself good company.

The two brothers love one another.

Correct

It is I who am to blame.

She is as wise as he.

He brought the things which he wanted to sell, to the market.

I invite you and him to tea.

He appears older than she.

Everybody held his breath

Neither of them wore his cap.

It was they who came in time.

He kept good company.

The two brothers love each other.

Use of Pronoun

Incorrect

This is the same book which I needed.

The moment who is lost, is lost forever.

Anyone of these two boys is absent.

Each of our students pay their tuition fee in advance.

The boy is my brother who met you there.

These are ours books.

The secret is between you and me.

He is stronger than me.

She qualified herself as a nurse.

The dog who is going, is mine.

Correct

This is the same book as I needed.

The moment which is lost, is lost forever.

Either of these two boys is absent.

Each of our students pays his tuition fee in advance.

The boy who met you there is my brother.

These books are ours.

The secret is between you and me.

He is stronger than I.

She qualified as a nurse.

The dog which is going, is mine.

Use of Pronoun

Incorrect

Someone have called me out.

Nothing are due against him.

Let him and I do our work.

You and I are doing your work.

Whom is knocking at the door?

Let us take his leave.

Anyone can do it if one tries.

Who do you want to see?

The man who is proud, he is not happy.

Anyone that see you, love you.

Correct

Someone has called me out.

Nothing is due against him.

Let him and me do our work.

You and I are doing our work.

Who is knocking at the door?

Let us take leave of him.

Anyone can do it if he tries.

Whom do you want to see?

The man, who is proud, is not happy.

Any one that sees you, loves you.

Use of Tense & Verb

Incorrect

Correct

He is ill since Friday.

He has been ill since Friday.

He has reached here this morning.

He reached here this morning

The majority are authority.

The majority is authority.

It were they who helped me.

It was they who helped me.

Climbing down the stairs, he slipped.

When he was climbing down the stairs, he slipped.

Why you beat your brother?

Why did you beat your brother?

He dared not to oppose me.

He dared not oppose me.

He was treated the chief guest?

He was treated as a chief guest?

A group of girls were skipping.

A group of girls was skipping .

He is ill since Friday.

He has been ill since Friday.

Use of Tense & Verb

Incorrect

Correct

Many a men were killed.

Many a man was killed.

She was named as Farhat.

She was named Farhat.

A number of girls was present,

A number of girls were present.

Both of them was liars.

Both of them were liars.

He said that he is going to cinema.

He said that he was going to cinema.

It is raining for two hours.

It has been raining for two hours.

Where you spent your holidays?

Where did you spend your holidays
Majority in Pakistan is poor.

Majority in Pakistan are poor.

Majority in Pakistan is Poor.

He had better to go there.

He had better go there.

More than one girls have passed.

More than one girl has passed.

Use of Tense & Verb

Incorrect

Correct

I asked when did he go to Multan.

I asked when he went to Multan.

The thief was stealing for a long time.

The thief had been stealing for a long time.

He denied to go there.

He refused to go there.

I found that the ship is leaking.

I found that the ship was leaking.

He asked if I have visited Swat.

He asked if I had visited swat.

He absented from the college.

He absented himself from the college.

She called him as a fool.

She called him a fool.

If he had worked hard, he had passed.

If he had worked hard, he would have passed.

I heard him to speak.

I heard him speak.

If he came in time, I would have helped him.

If he had come in time, I would have helped him.

Use of Tense & Verb

Incorrect

Correct

Do not speak a lie.

Do not tell a lie.

Open the knot.

Untie the knot.

He wears a long beard.

He has a long beard.

He worked hard so that he may succeed.

He worked hard so that he might succeed.

If I shall come, I shall help you.

If I come, I shall help you.

He refused the statement.

He denied the statement.

He denied to oblige his friend.

He refused to oblige his friend.

I consider him as a good fellow.

I consider him a good fellow.

Portrayed him a Saint.

I portrayed him as a Saint.

I made him to obey me.

I made him obey me.

Use of Adverb

Incorrect

Correct

It is much fine today.

It is very fine today.

He is enough bold to face the enemy,

He is bold enough to face the enemy.

He was much delighted at this.

He was very delighted at this.

He comes here frequently.

He frequently comes here.

He was arrested, unfortunately.

Unfortunately, he was arrested.

It is nothing else than hatred.

It is nothing else but hatred.

I could not find him now here.

I could not find him anywhere. OR I could find him nowhere.

I am too happy to see you.

I am very happy to see you.

It is a much entertaining show.

It is a very entertaining show.

I am very tired to walk.

I am too tired to walk.

Use of Adverb

Incorrect

He ran quickly very.

His pay is enough high for him.

This book is much interesting.

This task is too much difficult.

Honey is too sweet.

I was very sad to laugh.

He came much soon.

He walks very faster than you.

He is very weak to walk.

She was much annoyed.

Correct

He ran very quickly.

His pay is high enough for him.

This book is very interesting.

This task is much too difficult.

Honey is very sweet.

I was too sad to laugh.

He came very soon.

He walks much faster than you.

He is too weak to walk.

She was very annoyed.

Use of Adverb

Incorrect

He succeeded luckily.

He comes here seldom.

I was much pained to hear this.

We slowly walked.

I don't know to swim.

I went directly to the college.

The old man walks slow.

It is very hot to play cricket.

She is not clever to do it.

He clearly explained his case.

Correct

Luckily, he succeeded.

He seldom comes here.

I was very pained to hear this.

We walked slowly.

I don't know how to swim.

I went direct to the college.

The old man walks slowly.

It is too hot to play cricket.

She is not clever enough to do it.

He explained his case clearly.

Use of Adverb

Incorrect

She tells never a lie.

I am too happy to find a job.

He is very changed now.

This scene is much entertaining.

He has spoken the truth always.

He attends the classes seldom.

Only he reads good books.

I was very surprised to see this.

This book is too old.

He was much tired.

Correct

She never tells a lie.

I am very happy to find a job.

He is much changed now.

This scene is very entertaining.

He has always spoken the truth.

He seldom attends the classes.

He reads only good books.

I was much surprised to see this.

This book is very old.

He was very tired.

Use of Conjunction

Incorrect

Correct

If you have gone there, you had got the book.

If you had gone there, you would have got the book.

He is no other but my brother.

He is no other than my brother.

No fewer but fifty boys came.

No fewer than fifty boys came.

No sooner did he see his brother, he came to greet him.

No sooner did he see his brother, than he came to greet him.

I don't like such boys who are lazy.

I don't like such boys as are lazy.

He is very weak to walk.

He is too weak to walk.

I could not help but laugh.

Walk with care lest you should slip.

I could not help but laugh.

I could not help laughing. Or I could not but laugh.

She cries as if she is beaten.

She cries as if she were beaten.

With a view to see him, I went to Muree.

With a view to seeing him, I went to Muree.

Use of Conjunction

Incorrect

We look forward to go there.

I shall reach you call me or not.

He does not know to swim.

You are neither fool nor rogue.

He did nothing than cry.

He asked that if I knew it.

Although he was tired, he did not stop

I do not know him like you do.

As I am busy, so I cannot go there.

She yells as if she is disagreed.

Correct

We look forward to going there.

I shall reach whether you call me or not.

He does not know how to swim.

You are neither fool nor rogue.

He did nothing but cry.

He asked if I knew it.

Although he was tired yet he did not stop.

I do not know him as you do.

As I am busy, I cannot go there.

She yells as if she had been disagreed.

Use of Preposition

Incorrect

He is ill from fever

This cheque is of habib Bank.

This cheque is of Rs the 50000/-

The mother beat him by a stick.

The birds are sitting on the trees.

This pen is to write.

He will come after two days.

She resembles with her mother.

It is time of rest.

He walked by foot.

Correct

He is ill with fever

This cheque is on the habib bank.

This checuq is for RS.500/.

The mother beat him with a stick.

The birds are sitting in the trees.

This pen is to write with.

He will come in two days.

She resembles her mother.

It is time for rest.

He walked on foot.

Use of Preposition

Incorrect

Correct

I congratulate you for your marriage

I congratulate you on your marriage.

Send this letter on my address.

Send this letter to my address.

The stars are on the sky.

The stars are in the sky.

I write with blue ink.

I write in blue ink.

He has no child from this wife.

He has no child by this wife.

He sat beside me.

He sat beside me.

He was hanged two years before.

He was hanged two years ago.

He was sitting after me.

He was sitting behind me.

Due to illness, he could not come to college.

Owing to illness, he could not come to college.

Distribute these pens between all the boys.

Distribute these pens among all the boys.

Use of Preposition

Incorrect

The book is lying at the table.

The girls are into the room.

A brick fell on the table.

I don't agree to you in this matter.

I agree with your proposal.

He is angry with your rude behavior.

I cannot part from my book.

Ali and Assad agreed with one another.

I love with honesty.

I said it upon his face.

Correct

The book is lying on the table.

The girls are in the room.

A brick fell upon the table.

I don't agree with you on this matter.

I agree to your proposal.

He is angry at your rude behavior.

I cannot part with my books.

Ali and Assad agreed with each other.

I love honesty.

I said it to his face.

Use of Preposition

Incorrect

He reached at the cinema late.

The house test will begin from June 10, 2011.

He is blind from one eye.

Open your book on page 10.

I am getting late from college.

He swore from God.

Eggs sell in dozens.

I regret at the delay.

India is in the east of Pakistan.

He passed in the examination.

Correct

He is reached the cinema late.

The house test will begin on June10, 2011.

He is blind in one eye.

Open your book at page 10.

I am getting late for college.

He swore by God.

Eggs sell by dozens.

I regret the delay.

India is to the east of Pakistan.

He passed the examination.